

AMENDMENTS TO THE ABSTRACT

Please replace the Abstract on pages 65 and 66 of specification with the substitute Abstract appended herewith.

ABSTRACT

A polyester resin characterized in that the content of the copolymerized components other than the terephthalic acid component and the ethylene glycol component, is not more than 4 mol% based on the total dicarboxylic acid component, and when polyester resin is formed into a molded product, the molded product has a specific absorbance.